

OFFICIAL PRESS SHEET

NOVEMBER

Winners of the monthly selection of Gold Movie Awards

Every month, the Gold Movie Awards, a film festival named after the Greek goddess of victory Nike, awards its statuettes to the best movies entered in the contest; monthly winners have the honor to attend the annual event that will take place in London on January 11, 2018.

Each month dozens of films participate in the competition, and only the best ones (who must get a score of at least 8/10 by the international jury) are awarded with the golden statuette.

This year, within just the first 11 months, over 650 films have already been submitted to the Gold Movie Awards. The main categories of the festival are: best short movies, best feature no budget (under $5000), best video clip, best documentary and best animation. There are also subcategories such as: best director, best photography etc.

This month the Best movie is: Thanks for Everything by Frank Aron Gardso

The event, which is to be held in London, will be a celebration for those who will be rewarded as the annual winners, but also a meeting point for the festival participants: directors, producers and actors. Workshops will also be organized for the occasion; this year the event will take place in the city at the cultural centre "Canada Water Center". The great news is that the next year (2019) The Gold Movie Awards event will take place at the Bafta Theatre 195 Piccadilly in London.

All the best of the month and the annual winners, receive our prestigious trophy: the Goddess Nike.

The Gold Movie Awards were born from the union of a production house and industry professionals; they were created by those who have produced films and short films for years, and thus know the value of independent film productions.

The festival is widening its horizons by doing live screenings across Italy and soon in other countries too. Next year, a partnership is likely to be established between the festival and a school of film and special effects (namely the SkyUp Academy) that's based in Italy.

Currently, the festival is in partnership with Genera (the platform that gives independent films the chance to be funded) and Inktip, which is a space for those who want to convert a script into a movie.
